SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Analysis by Democratic leaders today of the popular presidential vote in San Francisco failed to give much encouragement to the claim of the Republican state central committee that a split electoral vote would result from scrutineering of Democratic electors.

HUGHES' LEAD 618.
ST. PAUL, Nov. 11.—With 53 precincts missing out of 5,048 in the state Charles E. Hughes' plurality today remained at 642.

According to records of the previous election, the missing precincts polled about 400 votes and to these must be added the 5,100 ballots cast by the state soldiers in Texas and the small vote of traveling men.

WILSON STILL LEADS.
SANTO FE, Nov. 11.—President Wilson led Charles E. Hughes in the official New Mexico returns early today by 2,184 votes with 23 of the 533 precincts missing. These precincts were small and widely scattered.

WOULD SUPPORT HUGHES.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—In the event the election of President goes to the House an interesting situation will immediately develop there, for the vote is by states and the present House would likely support Hughes.

The representation from each state has one vote. The House is in control of the Democrats, but 26 state delegations out of the 48 are Republican, 21 Democratic and two—Nebraska and Utah—are evenly divided.

The delegations controlled by Republicans are those of Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming and West Virginia.

Contests over the election concern the states solely and not the federal government, according to supreme court decisions. "This is true even if fraud is shown. The electors shall meet in each state and give their votes on the second Monday in January following the election at places to be designated by the state legislatures." The laws of the state, the justices say, "shall be controlling and shall govern in counting the electoral votes." The votes of the states shall be forwarded to Washington forthwith after the electors meet in the state.

Each state has its own election laws, which will apply if there is a necessity for a recount of the vote obtained.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 11.—A Bucharest dispatch was forwarded from Rome to the Wireless Press reported that Field Marshal von Mackensen's retreat from Dobrudja is continuing and that the Bulgarian population is fleeing from Dobrudja through Bulgaria.

The dispatch says great fires have been observed in the direction of Tchernavoda and Constanza, the terminal of the railroad between the Black Sea and the Danube, and that it is thought possible these towns have been set on fire preparatory to their evacuation by the Tentons.

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS

PARIS, Nov. 11.—German forces attacked last night at Verdun on the Somme front and were repulsed by the French, who inflicted heavy losses on them, the war office announced today.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

SOFIA, Nov. 11.—There is no change of importance in Dobrudja, says an official statement from the war office today. "Now the Tchernavoda bridge our artillery compelled enemy units, which had pushed forward to the left bank of the Danube, to retire toward Danarev."

DESTROYS 21 PLANES.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Second Lieutenant George Guynemer, the famous French aviator, who recently brought down three German aeroplanes in two minutes and 30 seconds by a stop watch, is credited by the war office in today's official statement with having destroyed two German machines yesterday. This increases to 21 the number brought down by this aviator. Three other German aeroplanes were destroyed by the French yesterday.

ALLIES' DRIVE STOPPED.

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—Berlin newspapers publish a statement "from competent military authorities" saying the Anglo-French drive on the Somme front has been halted by the exhaustion of the Entente troops and their heavy losses and by unfavorable weather.

RUSSIAN ATTACKS FAIL.

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—Russian forces yesterday tried in vain by use of strong new forces to recapture the positions straddled by us the day previously at Skrebowa near Barnovsk. All the attacks broke down under heavy losses," says today's German official statement.

German troops penetrated the main Russian position southwest of Polz-Krasnolesie, the statement adds, and repulsed five violent counter attacks launched at night. German and Austro-Hungarian troops on the northeast front in Transylvania, says the statement yesterday made successful advances. Several entrenched Rumanian lines were taken at the point of bayonet west of Predeal-Sinay road.

Northeast of Courcelles on the Somme front, the British last night entered an advanced German position.

BOMBARDMENT CAUSES FRES.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Russian bombardment of the Rumanian Black Sea port of Constanza is said by Reuters' Petrograd correspondent to have inflicted great damage. Reservoirs of benzine and capita were exploded and the resulting fires fanned by the wind spread rapidly and burned for two days. There were no means of controlling the flames as the Rumanians had removed the fire apparatus when they evacuated the city.

The dispatch says Bulgarian shore batteries were silenced and that heavy losses were inflicted on the garrison. A German aeroplane which attempted to bombard the Russian squadron was brought down.

Murder at Uniontown Last July.

John Kutsanlian, arrested yesterday afternoon by City Detective J. W. Mitchell and charged with being suspicious, has confessed to the murder of little Leo Brett at Uniontown last July 4, according to Detective Mitchell. He is being held in the police station here, awaiting the arrival of County Detective Smith, who will take up the details of the case.

According to other members of the police force, the man this morning repudiated the confession. Detective Mitchell says that Kutsanlian told the story of his crime last afternoon and when the officer questioned the prisoner regarding the molesting of small boys in the neighborhood, Kutsanlian, it is alleged, said, "I killed that boy in Uniontown."

County Detective Smith and District Attorney S. John Morrow were immediately notified of the arrest.

Lines.

Special to The Courier.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—Every yard and sidetrack on the Pennsylvania lines between Pittsburgh and Chicago and between Pittsburgh and Saint Louis will be visited in the next few days by an army of inspectors in an effort to discover the cause of the car shortage and to return foreign cars to their home lines.

They will take the name and number of each car that is being retained while reporting the results of their investigation to J. W. Roberts, superintendent of transportation, under whose direction the investigation is being made.

The plan was worked out at a meeting of operating and freight officials held at the company's general offices here. It is expected to provide such information as will effectually bring about betterment in car supply since it will bring back into service not only cars of the Pennsylvania but those of foreign railroads as well.

She was carried into the house and Dr. E. A. McCombs was summoned and after a careful examination discovered that with the exception of a badly bruised hip, she had escaped injury.

By Associated Press.
CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mex., Nov. 11.—The division of troops under General Murguía, it is officially announced here today has begun to advance northward from Escorial in two columns. One column is said to be proceeding up the line of the Mexican Central railway repairing the track while the other, consisting of 3,000 cavalrymen, is paralleling the track on a hunt for bandits.

Military authorities here assert that Villás is near the Durango border so that this movement will cut him off from the north or in the event of his escape northward place him between the forces of Murguía and the cavalry that General Trevino would dispatch from Chihuahua.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 11.—Many wagon loads of furniture belonging to Chihuahua refugees are standing at the International bridge today awaiting customs examination. Inspectors state that within the last two weeks more household goods and trunks belonging to refugees have crossed the international bridge into El Paso than during any period within two years. Many Mexican families have moved from Juarez to El Paso.

FAVORS SINGLE TAXState Highway Commissioner Says It Is Only Way to Secure Money.

Somerset county good roads boosters have the approval of State Highway Commissioner F. B. Black in their plans for a "pike to pike" highway connecting the National Pike and the Lincoln Highway via Garrett and Berlin. The new road when completed will likely be called "Black Boulevard" in honor of the commissioner.

Mr. Black was present at a meeting of the Somerset County Good Roads Club on Tuesday night. Discussing good roads generally he stated that the only possible way to carry on the good roads work in Pennsylvania was by a direct tax on all assessable property. A levy of one half mill, he said, would yield the handsome sum of $12,000,000 a year, which would be sufficient, although not too much, to provide Pennsylvania with the finest system of roads in the United States.

MINERS ASK PROBESay They Cannot Purchase Necessities of Life.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—The executive board of the United Mine Workers of Ohio, representing 50,000 wage earners in the mining industry today addressed to President Wilson and Governor Willis of Ohio a copy of a resolution adopted by miners' officials demanding that the various branches of the state and federal government conduct an investigation of the high cost of living.

The miners' officials declare the earnings of the wage earners are not sufficient to purchase the necessities of life for even a small family. Mine workers are hard hit by the high cost of living, their officials declare, because the mines are not working half time due to the coal car shortage.

BACK TO CHEAT HAVENWoman, Stranded Here, Is Furnished

A woman from Cheat Haven, seemingly stranded here, was brought before Mayor Marietta in police court this morning. The woman, who is 30 years old and rather attractive in appearance, had asked for lodging. She said she had come here looking for work but had been unable to find it.

"What do you want to do?" the mayor asked her, and when she was silent he said, "Do you want to get married?"

"I don't know," was the answer.

"Well, will you go back to Cheat Haven?" said the mayor. The woman thought she would, if she had the fare. Lieutenant Bowers put her on the 9:40 train.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH
IS JURY'S VERDICT*Inquest Into Death of Frank Wolf, Killed in Street Car Wreck, Held.

"Accidental death," was the verdict rendered by a coroner's jury here yesterday in the case of Frank Wolf, victim of the recent West Penn wreck near Trotter. "The accident was unavoidable," the jury decided, "and was due to the failure of the magnetic brake on the trolley car to hold."

Coroner S. H. Baum of Uniontown, conducted the inquest. He first called to the stand Harry Miller, motorman on the wrecked car, who testified that he had been with the West Penn for "two or three months," but had had five years' experience as a motorman in Norfolk before coming here.

As Miller neared the sharp curve at the Brookville school house on the night of October 25, he said, he applied the hand brake and set the sand lever. The magnetic brake failed him, however, and though the speed of the car was partially checked, it was not slowed down sufficiently to prevent the overturning of the vehicle. "How fast were you going when you neared the curve?" Miller was asked.

"I should say 28 or 40 miles an hour," was the answer.

Frank Cornes, conductor of the wrecked car, said that the car certainly slackened a little before it went over. He was collecting fares in the center of the car at the time of the accident, he said.

Miller was questioned again and said that he had never had a serious accident before. After the jury had been deliberating for some time, the motorman was called back and asked if he had been attempting to make up lost time before the wreck occurred. Miller said that he had been running late, and had naturally been trying to make up time.

Shortly after the conclusion of this testimony, the verdict of accidental death was rendered. The jury consisted of James McClain, C. F. Bishop, S. N. Osborne, Lee Soloman, C. H. Bishop and Harry Stafford. The inquest was held in J. L. Stader's undertaking parlors.

ARRESTED AT YOUNGSTOWNShowman Hunter Accused by His Wife of Stealing Automobile.

Chief of Police B. Rottler returned this morning from Youngstown, Ohio, where he arrested Frank Hunter, wanted here on a charge of larceny. Hunter gave $500 bail and promised to appear before Alderman Fred Munk here today for a hearing.

Hunter is accused by his wife, who has been running a Wild West show on the West Side, of stealing her automobile, a Buick worth $1,500. Hunter told Chief Rottler yesterday that it was his own automobile and that his wife had no case against him. He alleged that she had stolen several weeks ago. Mrs. Hunter, who has been in South Carolina, is expected to arrive here today for the hearing.

Hunter managed the Harry C. Hunter carnival which appeared here early in the summer. It is said that just before that show arrived in Connellsville, Mr. Hunter took the receipts of an entire week in another town and bought the automobile new in question.

LODGE OF PERFECTIONLocal Masons Attend Annual Reunion

She marked the ticket and deposited it in the box.

The election board examined it later and found that Miss Towsey knew how to mark a ballot correctly.

FREAK ELECTION
BETS NOW BEING
PAID BY LOSERS*Early Report of Hughes Victory
Will Cause Some to be Done Over Again.*WILSON SUPPORTERS GLOAT*Winners Give Their Opponents the Merry Laugh and Distribute Tickets Up the Salt River; Hughes
"Died" According to Kurtz Foster.

Election is over and no matter what the Republicans may accomplish in the way of contests, Wilson supporters are asking payment of freak bets. Wagers of money have already been turned over by the stakeholders but the payment of the obligations entered in the weird bets will attract a good deal more attention.

Probably the most peculiar circumstances surround the bet made by Roy Hoover and William E. Niland, whereby the loser agreed to wheel the winner about the business section in a wheelbarrow. When all of the papers conceded the election of Hughes when early returns came in Tuesday night, Mr. Niland told Mr. Hoover through the city on a narrow, journeying from the Elks home to the Columbia Hotel on the West Side and back to the place of beginning. Then it developed that Wilson was the winner. Naturally Mr. Niland claimed that a ride was due him. Now arrangements have been made by Mr. Hoover to pay the bet next Tuesday night at 11:30. He at first sought to substitute an automobile truck for the barrow but the winner would not have it that way.

Shortly after the conclusion of this testimony, the verdict of accidental death was rendered. The jury consisted of James McClain, C. F. Bishop, S. N. Osborne, Lee Soloman, C. H. Bishop and Harry Stafford. The inquest was held in J. L. Stader's undertaking parlors.

Arrangements were made with Squire J. B. Kurtz to get out his hand and accompany the procession. The ride will be down Main street from the Elks' club to Pittsburgh street, to the Royal Hotel, back to Main street, across the bridge to the Columbia Hotel and return.

Miss Mary King, cashier at the H. C. Frick store at Davidson, bet W. E. Snowden, the store manager, that if Hughes won she would wheel him in a barrow to Scottdale. If Wilson won Snowden was to wheel her to Uniontown. Friends of both are now waiting for the wager to be paid.

Louis Cole, a printer at The Courier, and Clyde Prinkey, "devil" of the composing room, paid their election bet yesterday morning. Wilson won so the former had to roll a peanut with a toothpick from the composing room into the editorial room. He did it under the careful supervision of the winner.

Prior to election E. G. Hall and Charles A. McCormick did a lot of arguing about the prospects of the respective candidates and the latter, supporting Hughes and the latter, supporting Wilson. On Wednesday morning when it appeared that Hughes had won, Mr. Hall hung a picture of the candidate outside his store. As the morning wore on it became apparent that Hughes was lagging behind so while Mr. Hall was at dinner his Democratic adversary, who had been over the engraving. Now that Wilson's victory has been about conceded, Mr. McCormick has presented Mr. Hall with a ticket for a Salt River excursion. A lot of other Republicans will be on this train.

A picture of Charles Evans Hughes, clipped from The Courier, appears in the window of J. B. Kurtz's office, with the heading "Hughes will win" does not seem to have been borne out by the ensuing events. Above it is a picture of The News' rooster.

Last night Squire Kurtz played a funeral march on his drum for the benefit of a group of young men who came down to console with him on Hughes' defeat.

Henry C. Cochran, well known Dawson man, will soon sport a new hat as the result of another bet. Mr. Cochran, soon after the two candidates had been named, wagered a ten dollar hat on Wilson. Robert Norris of Connellsville taking the other side of the bet.

Mr. Cochran has not yet decided just what kind of a "lid" he wants. He has decided, however, that he will not wear the new hat until March 4, when he expects to witness the inauguration of Wilson at Washington.

YOU'RE BILIOUS! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT

Don't Stay Headachy, Sick, or Have Bad Breath and Sour Stomach.

Wake up feeling fine! Best laxative for men, women and children.

Enjoy life! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive, and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the richest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarets never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and calomel. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or fidgety children a whole Cascaret any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.—Adv.

Our New Serial

"K"—yes, that's the name. Rather short title, but a story that's long in the elements that make you sit up late nights with a good book. K. Le Moyne has been a famous surgeon. That much Mrs. Rinehart lets you know soon after the story opens. But why, at the age of thirty, should he drop out of the world that has known him and come to the little town where Sidney Page lives?

Sidney is a strong beautiful girl, training hard to become a nurse. Perhaps it is because she is so happy and so young that life suddenly begins to press in upon her, crowding her ideals with puzzling, harsh realities. But, always there are friends who love and watch over her—and there is "K."

When the last installment is completed you will agree this is the best mystery story that you have read in many a day—a vivid page out of the book of life—a tale that will be greatly appreciated by young and old.

BUSY

—but not too busy to give you every attention.

BUSY days these: fitting men and women with these new Regal Shoes for Fall. One most gratifying thing is the number of NEW FACES we see in the store—folks looking for those Regal Shoes everybody is talking about.

There are more of these new customers than in any previous season—proving that right style, right value, right price do count; and that our judgment was sound when we decided to specialize in Regal Shoes.

Regal means a shoe with a great institution behind it—a reputation to sustain—two million wearers to satisfy. A good deal to live up to—but Regal Shoes always make good.

THE EUROPEAN WAR GAVE THE STIMULUS TO BY-PRODUCT OVENS

Present Building Activity
Due to Other Causes.
However.

IS CLAIM OF PLANT BUILDERS

Quality of Coke Alleged to be Better.
Financial Conditions Permit Large
Investments and Conservation of Fuel Resources Demand Economy.

There was recently published in the columns of The Weekly Courier an abstract of an address before the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania by C. G. Atwater, on "The Utilization of Coke By-Products." In the current issue of The Blast Furnace and Steel Plant, C. J. Rumsburg, Vice President, H. Koppers Company, supplements the original paper by an interesting discussion of the present status of the by-product industry, in which he says:

"Very commonly the present activity in the construction of by-product coke plants is attributed to a stimulus given it by the European war to the demand for by-product. It will therefore no doubt seem strange to you, in the light of this popular opinion for me to say that to the best of my knowledge and belief, there is not one coke plant being built today for this reason. The present activity is due to three factors.

"First.—It is now generally accepted by blast furnace managers that by-product coke is better than beehive coke for blast furnace purposes.

"Second.—Financial conditions accompanying the business stimulus instigated by the war have enabled projects to go forward, which before had been recognized as extraordinary investments inevitably to be made.

"Third.—It is realized by the industrial leaders in America that efficiency begins with economy. The production of raw materials and that it is as a nation are to hold our proper place in industrial competition, we must take advantage of every possibility for lower production costs, beginning with the largest of these.

"There is little doubt that there has been a marked increase in the production of what efficiency in scientific production methods may amount to. It is from these causes that there are in course of erection in America today, nearly 3,000 by-product coke ovens, having a capacity of 12,000,000 tons of coke per annum.

"There are three great fields open to the by-product coke oven:

"First.—As an auxiliary in blast furnace operation and steel manufacture, which utilizes both coke and coke oven gas as fuel for various purposes.

"Second.—As a source of coal gas for domestic and manufacturing uses, in conjunction with the manufacture of domestic coke, producer coke or furnace coke depending upon condition and demand.

"Third.—For by-product recovery in power fuel manufacture, in which the coke is used in blast furnaces, gas and the gas is used in gas engines thus enhancing the economic value of the gas.

"This last field is one on which attention will be rapidly focused, for there is no question that in the use of coal for steam production, burning up the ammonia, benzol, toluol, and cyanides, as well as coal gas, all of which are materials of high potential value for other uses and which waste could be avoided by use of the by-product recovery ovens.

"To-day at normal prices of by-products the value of the materials consumed with each ton of Pittsburgh semi-coal, creating the gas at natural gas figures amounts to over $1.50 per net ton.

"No thinking man will deny that an economic advance will result when the coal is first coked and the coke then put in the furnace instead of coal. I believe it can be sold correctly and with careful weighing of words that in design and operation, America is second to none in the efficiency of by-product coking. This is partially, though by no means entirely due to the exclusive use of silica brick in place of clay."

SEVERAL NEW RAILROAD PROJECTS

In the Pittsburgh District Are Now Under Way: Twelve Compelling Lines.

The completed construction of the Wheeling & Eastern railroad across Greene county from Wheeling to the Connelville coke region is but one of several enterprises of the kind which are being undertaken in that and neighboring sections of the Pittsburgh district. Some construction work is already in progress while permanent surveys on other projects have been well advanced.

Preliminary work has already been started on the extension of the Cumberland branch of the Panhandle road from Chester to Midland, toward the Ohio river at the dividing line between the states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. Acceleration of this project seems to have been made as a result of the desire of new manufacturing establishments to build at once instead of waiting a later and supposedly more convenient time.

It is stated that the work is to be hurried through to completion as expeditiously as possible.

Another project, also a Pennsylvania railroad enterprise, is the construction of a line to be known as the Wheeling Coal road from West into the junction with the Marianna branch of the Pennsylvania. This road will afford an outlet for coal and coke to the Ohio river at Wheeling and a shortening of distances by at least 60 miles as contrasted with present routes. This, it is believed, is in anticipation of the probability of a revision of rates for coal and coke from the Connelville districts, but at the same time it will facilitate the development of large areas of coal in Greene and Washington counties. Later short stems will be added to facilitate the opening of mines in tributary territory, of which there is a vast coal field.

In this development there is a possibility, but little likely a probability, of a keen rivalry as between the Pennsylvania and the New York Central Lines. A story about is that the latter is a probable purchaser of the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, for the purpose of breaking into what has been regarded as the Connelville territory by the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio, at Steubenville and its adjacent industrial communities; but there are also whispers that if it shall appear that the New York Central Lines shall be found to be after this desirable property it will be other Richmonds in the field.

It deals with a woman lobbyist and the havoc she raises in Washington pending the passage of the Child Labor bill. The story of "The Velvet Paw" tells about Mary Dexter (Gail Kane) whose father had invented a warship apparatus, but is unsuccessful in securing the backing to place the invention before the naval committee, and commits suicide. Senator Barring (Ned Burton) takes an interest in the girl, has her make her home with him where she is a companion for Mrs. Barring. As she grows into womanhood Senator Barring falls in love to become a lobbyist. Charming, scheming, lovely she is successful in obtaining favorable legislation for Barring's interests. She succeeds in having Congressman Drake (Frank Goldsmith) vote in favor of a certain bill under promise of marriage. Drake is defeated and she refuses him his constituents infuriated elect Robert Moorehead (House Peters) to take Drake's place in Washington. As with all other men, Moorehead is taken with Mary Dexter. However, loyal to his people, Moorehead consistently and persistently refuses to accede to the demands of the woman lobbyist. It comes to a showdown with Senator Barring and Mary Dexter. He orders her to exit every day to get Moorehead in favor of his bill. His love for Mary put to the test, Moorehead promises to stay away from the House while the vote is taken. Realizing in what extent she has degraded herself as well as the man she really loves, Mary seeks Moorehead and releases him from his pledge. As he is debating on the question, Drake comes upon Mary and tries to seduce her. Drake is killed by the crowd on the lower floor. Moorehead rushes to Mary, finds that she is but slightly wounded and together they rejoice over his victory and her narrow escape.

"PLAIN JANE"—A Kuy-Bee Triangle five part, starring Bessie Barriscon, the favorite screen star, is being presented today. John Adams is working his way through college. Jane is the little sister in his boarding house. John at first has no idea of falling in love with Jane, but she is completely gone on him from the beginning. In fact John has his eyes on Elaine Radcliffe, a college girl. There came a time when John wanted a dress suit to attend a ball. Jane, who had become aware of this and with her scanty savings rented him one. Of course she couldn't tell him she did this, but she pretended that it was left there by a former boarder, so he goes to the ball. But boys will be boys, and his classmates rip the coat up his back and he is compelled to go home without having seen Elaine at all. Jane takes the suit back to the dealer, unaware that it is ruined. When the dealer discovers this he demands payment. There follows a scene in the street in which she is humiliated. It was then that a photographer of considerable wealth comes along. Hearing how the pitiful story he made good the amount of the suit. He later adopts Jane sends her to college and makes her the most popular girl in the place. And then comes a great awakening for John. A Keystone comedy, "The Danger Club" is included in the program Monday. Nance O'Neil will be seen in "The Iron Woman." Thursday "The Ne'er-Do-Well," featuring Kathleen Williams and other members of the cast which appeared in "The Spellers," will be shown. The production is in ten reels.

MAY CHANGE CAR TO MOTOR

Government Rescue Car in Kansas May be Replaced by Motor Truck.

The government mine rescue car, now stationed at Pittsburg, Kan., may be changed to a mine rescue motor truck.

The government has changed to the motor truck in several mine districts and found these more satisfactory than the railroad cars. The motor trucks are able to get quickly to mines which can be reached by rail only in a roundabout way and time is such an element in mine rescue work that a few minutes may mean the saving of many lives.

In the Kansas mine district there are many mines which could be reached by motor car in a few minutes where it would take an hour to get the railroad car to the mine.

The mine rescue motor trucks which the government provides to take the place of the railroad cars cost about $10,000 with the full equipment. It has the same equipment that is furnished with the railroad cars and the government supplies two men to handle the car and direct the work in the event of an explosion. These men also do the first aid instruction work and train some of the first aid workers in every mine in the district.

NO POST SEASON GAMES FOR PITT; STATE GAME LAST

Crack Western Penna. Eleven Turns Deaf Ear to the Promoters.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED TODAY

All This End of State Is Watching Duel Between Pitt and W. & J. Teams: Last Year for Three of the Brightest of the Pittsburgh Stars

Special to The Courier.
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 10.—The athletic authorities at the University of Pittsburgh have been busy recently retreating offers for post-season duels with various rival college teams. Offers have been pouring in from promoters who desire to pit the famous Warner machine against some other crack eleven for a game later than Thanksgiving, but all have been promptly refused to the Pittsburgh management, which has announced repeatedly that under no consideration whatsoever will the Pitt players be permitted to take part in a post-season game. The Pitt schedule ends on Thanksgiving in the annual game with Penn State, and that ends football for the year, so far as the locals are concerned. Tufts, Rutgers, California, Washington and other teams have been mentioned as antagonists of Warner's men in these late affairs, which seem to be under discussion on both the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts, but there is no possibility of Pitt's participation in any such undertaking.

The huge crowd expected at the W. & J. Pitt game today will be more truly representative of Western Pennsylvania, probably, than any other which gathers in this city. Both institutions have thousands of alumni and other supporters in the various towns of the district who never fail to visit Pittsburgh on the occasion of the annual battle between Blue and Gold and Red and Black, and it is expected that more out of such fans will attend this game than any other. Washington county invariably turns out en masse to root for the visitors, while Pitt alumni from all quarters fill the right wing of the grandstand and shout for the University boys. The contest is always full of thrills, both from the playing and the rooting standpoint, and early indications were for a crowd equalling the recent-breaking turnout of 1915, when something over 20,000 rooters crowded in to the ball park.

The 19-0 score by which Warner's boys defeated W. & J. last year was the widest margin of victory obtained by either team for many years, and marked the first contest in which the local eleven had defeated its rivals since 1911. After several years of Pitt triumphs, the wonderful W. & J. machine in 1912, 1913 and 1914 won three successive games from the Panthers, the tide finally turning last year. In 1914 the score was 13-10, Pitt losing in the second half on a series of misplays by backfield substitutes after their big stars, Williamson, Fry and Hastings, were out of the game because of injuries. Last year the achievement was unanimously gratifying for this reason as well as because of the intense rivalry between the two schools. The Pitt rooters, while confident of success this year, believe that Captain Peck's team will find it harder to outscore W. & J. than any of the opponents met up to this time, as Metzger's team has been coming fast and is in prime condition for this contest.

This will be the last game in which the Red and Black will have to face several of Pitt's most noted players, as Captain Peck, Thornhill and Heron finish their careers this year, and Soppitt, star of the last two years' games with these rivals, has been forced out of football by the injury received in the Navy game a month ago. Pitt will sorely miss these four remarkable linemen, who rank among the topnotchers which this district has produced. In fact, it is apparent that Thornhill, Peck and Heron will all be included in many all American selections this year, as their work has featured practically every one of Pitt's games, and Eastern critics who have watched their work class them as among the best they have ever seen. Against Syracuse and Penn especially these three have won great distinction, and in the Navy game the Pitt line so far outlasted their opponents that the net gain of the Middles through the line was less than ten yards. Warner has a great task before him to produce for the 1917 Panthers players to fill the shoes of these four crack players, as well as the three or four excellent substitutes who go out with this year's graduating class.

SUBMARINE SUNK

German Undersea Boats Suspected of Having Sunk the Arabia.

By Associated Press.

CARLO, Egypt, via London, Nov. 10. Two German submarines were seen by persons on board the Arabia when that Peninsular & Oriental liner was sunk in the Mediterranean last Monday and one of them, according to the steamer's officers, was fired upon by gunners on the Arabia after the liner had been hit by a torpedo.

The Arabia was struck aft on the starboard side by the torpedo which sank her. There was no panic among the 437 passengers or the crew who immediately took to the boats. The Arabia sank an hour and a half later. The City of Marcellus and another steamer, and three trawlers picked up the survivors after they had been in the boats about an hour. The weather, fortunately, was very fine.

STEAMER IS SUNK.

First Reported as Castilla; One Survivor From Crew of 23.

CALUMET, Mich., Nov. 10.—A steamer which at first was reported to be the Castilla, was sunk off Manilla Island last midnight, with a loss of 22 lives. The identity of the steamer is in doubt as the Castilla, according to reports from Toledo, has arrived there with a cargo of ore.

A sailor named Laundry is the only survivor of the crew which numbers 23. Laundry, clung to a life raft and drifted until picked up by fishermen. He was taken to Lao Labele where he telephoned first news of the disaster to the United States coast guard station.
